This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

TAXATION.

From the annual tabular statements it will be seen that the amount of taxable property for 1869 was $26,919,097.75, and upon which I have based my estimates of revenue from counties, yet I feel confident that the actual amount of taxable property is largely in excess of the amount given. Some mode of assessing should be devised by which a more accurate and full amount of taxable property should be arrived at. The rate of taxation not alone should be uniform, but the appraisement of real estate should be more equal and nearer to its actual market value, and I again repeat my recommendation made two years since, that a Board of Equalization be established consisting of one member, say from each judicial district of the State and clothed with the necessary power, would be an improvement on our present assessment system.

Also recommend that each county be required to report annually to this office, an abstract of all taxes levied, specifying the amount and purpose for which they are to be raised.

This will enable the Legislature and the public to see at a glance the aggregate taxation of the State, and the amount applied to particular objects.

The State issues a large number of commissions annually to Notaries Public and Commissioners for this State residing in other states. These commissions, the postage and labor necessarily incident to their distribution, cost the State no inconsiderable sum, and for which no fees are received. I would therefore recommend that the Secretary of State be authorized to charge a fee of two dollars and a half for Notaries' commissions, and five dollars for the other class, and also that he be allowed twenty-five cents per folio for recording the official acts of the executive department, and apply the proceeds to his own use, in addition to his present salary. An exhibit of the amount of labor that is necessary to be performed in the legitimate duties of the office is only requisite to satisfy you that the salary is inadequate to compensate for services and responsibilities connected therewith.

The labors of this department for the past eight years have been of great magnitude and importance, and I have sought to do all in my power to systematize its duties, and in retiring I cannot sever my official relations without publicly expressing my gratitude to the people of the State who have honored me with their confidence and support, and the several Legislative Assemblies, with which I have been identified, for their uniform kindness and forbearance with my many delinquencies.

I have the honor to be, respectfully,

Your Obedient Servant,

SAMUEL E. MAY,

Secretary of State.

REPORT

ADJUTANT GENERAL

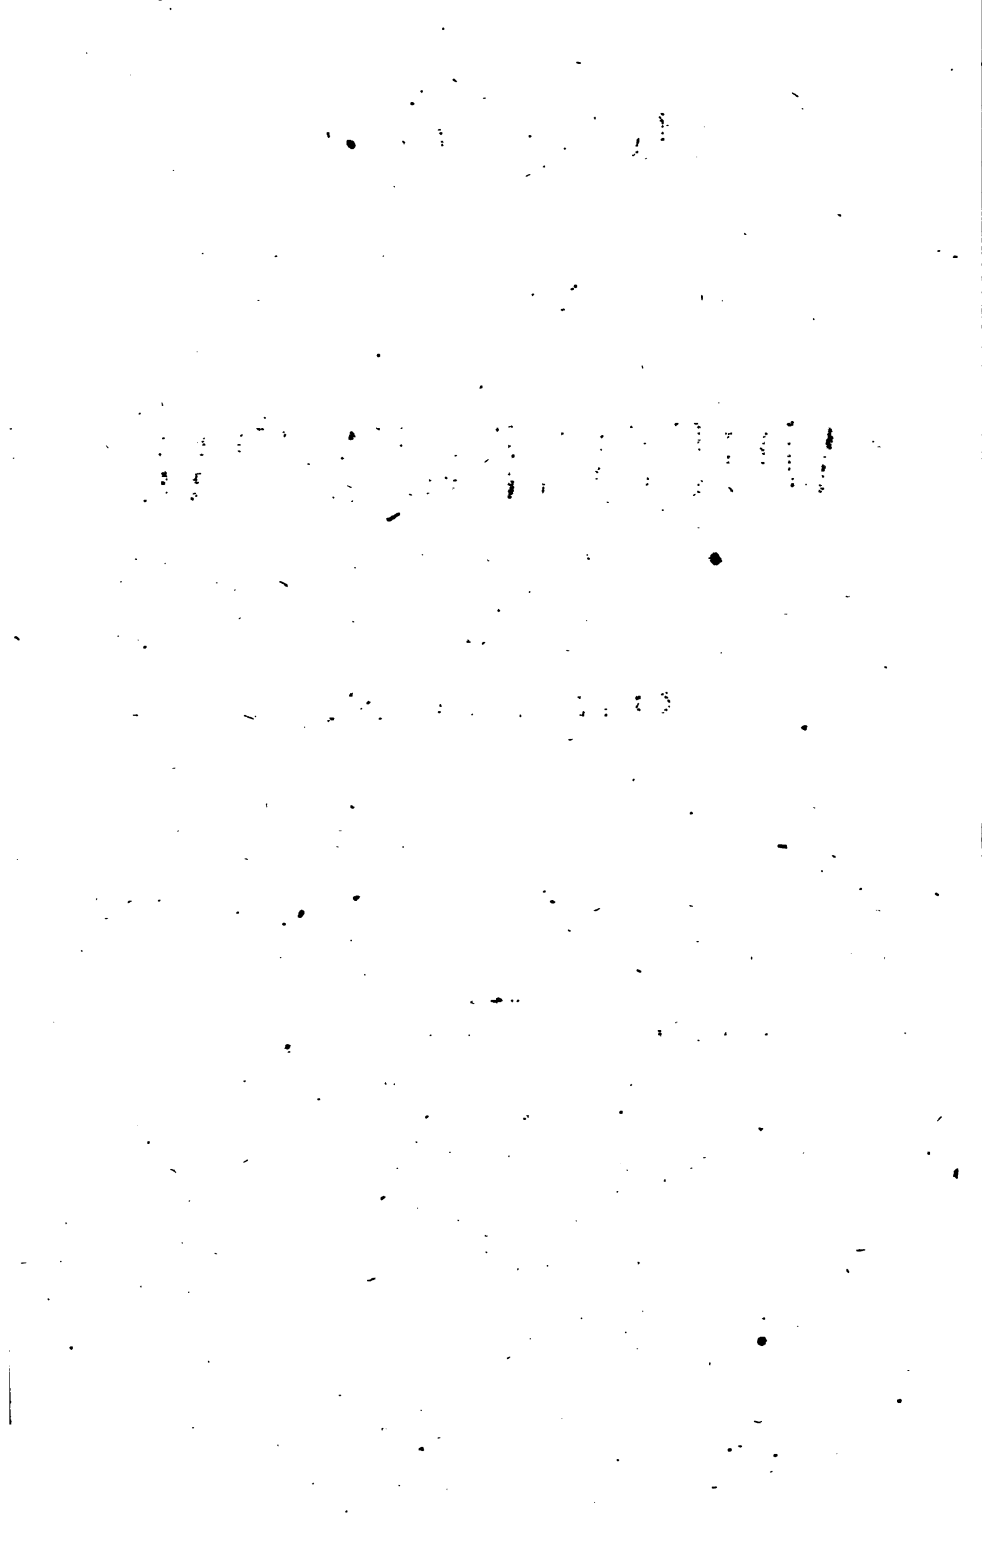
TO THE

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY THEREOF.

SIXTH REGULAR SESSION,
SEPTEMBER, 1870.

SALEM, OREGON:
W. A McPHERSON, STATE PRINTER.
1870.



SALEM, Sept. 18th, 1870.

To HIS EXCELLENCY,
GEO. L. WOODS,
GOVERNOR OF OREGON.

SIR:—I have the honor to transmit my Report herewith, for the term ending Sept. 18th, 1870.

I am, Sir,
Very Respectfully,
Your Obedient Servant,
CYRUS A. REED,
Adjutant General,
State of Oregon.

REPORT.

HEAD QUARTERS, STATE OF OREGON,
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
SALEM, Sept. 1st, 1870.

TO HIS EXCELLENCY,
GEORGE L. WOODS,
GOVERNOR OF OREGON.

SIR:—I have the honor to submit herewith, the Report of the transactions of this Department since my Report submitted to you September, 1868.

A large portion of the labor of this office for the last two years has been connected with the various departments at Washington City, D. C., by way of giving information relative to officers and soldiers who served in the United States Service, in troops raised in Oregon, and with the officers and soldiers that served; all of which has been of such a nature as to render it necessary to make official report thereof.

The repeal of a portion of the Militia Law by the Legislature of 1866 has had the effect to render null and void our militia system. In my report for the year 1866, I dwelt at length upon this subject, and would respectfully refer to that report upon this matter; and I am still of the opinion that if the suggestions therein made were heeded, that great good would be the result. The present war in Europe may yet involve the nation in foreign strife; for, should France undertake to establish a Republic, questions of policy may be involved that will render it necessary to recognize them. We cannot be indifferent to such momentous questions; at any rate, it is hazardous, and almost suicidal, for a people situated as we are, to fail to accomplish a thorough organization of our State Militia.

The details of the business of this office will be found in the schedules herewith appended. It will be seen by schedule F, that this office holds certificates for sixty bounty bonds that were made up upon the muster rolls on file at this office, many of which have been forfeited by desertion or otherwise; undoubtedly some of them are justly due the soldier in whose name they are made up; and, could the true owner be found, they should be issued to them; but, as every effort has been made to find them, and so long a time has elapsed since they became due, that I would recommend that they be cancelled, which, if done, will lessen the State indebtedness some three thousand dollars.

Schedule E shows the number of certificates issued on account of the Relief Act since my last Report, and there still remains quite a number of unadjusted claims that may demand attention. But, as time renders these claims more obscure, I would recommend that the Legislature pass some Act of Limitation for their adjustment.

Hoping that the day may soon come when our Legislature will recognize the necessity of friendly action in relation to our militia system, and thanking you for the kind consideration which I have always received at your hands,

I am, Sir,

Very Respectfully,

Your Obedient Servant,

CYRUS A. REED,

Adjutant General,

State of Oregon.

PENITENTIARY REPORT.

REPORT.

His Excellency, George L. Woods,

Governor of the State of Oregon:

Sir—I have the honor to submit for your inspection and for the consideration of the Honorable Senators and Representatives of Oregon the following report of the inmates and condition of the State Penitentiary.

The peculiar difficulties, financial and otherwise, which the present officers have had to combat during the past two years have not enabled them to advance the general prosperity of the Institution to that extent which it was their desire to do —nevertheless all things considered, each department connected therewith is in a flourishing condition.

Regarding health and ability to labor the Convicts of this State Prison, will I beleive, compare favorably with any other State Institution of the same kind. While it is a notorious fact that a large percentage of the persons convicted and sent to Prison are generally dissipitated men; by careful handling at the commencement of thetr term of sentence, they are soon recuited and become first class laborers.

I desire to particularly call the attention of the Legislature to the insecurity of the building at the present time occupied as a Prison. Originally intended only as a temporary refuge, it has up to the present time been used nearly four years and cannot without large expenditure be made useful more than two years longer, at the greatest period. After such outlay, you will not have such a Prison as is necessary. For many months a general escape has been anticipated which has only been baffled by continued and extraordinary vigilance of Officers employed at the Prison.

By reference to the tables of prisoners it will be seen that escapes have not occured only at long intervals during this administration until this year—when at one time five prisoners went through the house during one night; true they were captured, but at an expense of some magnitude and that kind of expense which every exertion has been made to avoid.

One other danger, which has been a source of discomfort to myself, to which I invite your attention, is that of fire. Owing to the peculiar construction of the main building and quarters attached thereto, the greatest care is necessary. The least carelessness in any department or a defective flue is liable at any time to sweep the whole concern away, and should it be at night the loss of lives would be fearful to contemplate, without stopping to consider other consequenses. Some few of the convicts would at any time fire the premises did not a wholesome fear for themselves deter them.

The encloseures excepting the Stockade in process of erection around the new brick yard have rotted and will during the winter have to be renewed, otherwise another season will leave your prison in the open fields.

The labor of the convicts during the past two years has been confined to brick making during the summer, and grubbing on the State Lands during the fall and winter months. The manufacture of bricks being the only labor from which income could be derived, every other work that might have been followed had necessarily to give way to preparation for that work whenever deemed desirable—therefore preparing clay, wood, moulds, and machinery occupied a portion of the winter months.

By reference to the tables hereto annexed it will be observed that in proportion as population has increased, has followed an increase of convictions—a fact, I regret to say, hitherto overlooked, and for which some provision ought to be made without delay. The make-shifts to which, from time to time your officers have been compelled to resort in order to properly and securely quarter such overplus, has proved far from satisfactory, and convinces me of the necessity of the Legislature providing some means to obviate the difficulties as well as the evils which must ensue under present circumstances.

The prison for females was constructed within and below the officers quarters; purposely to cut off all communication with the prison proper—which brought the female convicts immediately under the supervision of the wardens, and by that method guarded against any accident which might have resulted from their being domiciled in any other part of the prison.

A careful examination by the Legislature into the necessities of the institution, will convice them that the erection of a proper and secure prison, Work-Shops, and the introduction of machinery are the first steps to be taken preparatory to putting the institution on a self supporting basis. The business of brick making so far as it goes can hardly be improved on—but the time for such labor will not average five months of the year, the remainder of the year your officer in charge must either find work for the convicts or lock them up. With machinery to manufacture, many articles which are imported, and can and should be made here to supply the increasing demand, the winter season could be made as useful to the institution as any other portion of the year. By such proceedure, in a few years your penitentiary will undoubtedly be able to repay with interest its own expenditures; otherwise it will continue to be a source of increasing expense.

For easy reference the prison expenditures have been massed by quarters; collated, recapitulated and aggregated as follows:

Each year such ground as had been prepared by clearing has been brought under cultivation, but not until the present season has the prison been able to realize much advantage therefrom excepting in the way of vegetables. This season there have been harvested Barley, Hay and Oats in considerable quantities, and vegetables in large abundance, with a large surplus for winter and spring uses. A portion of the asylum grounds are not yet grubbed and also some two or three acres of the penitentiary grounds lying south of the creek.

In penitentiary reports for 1868 it was recommended that the boarding house for the officers attached to the prison be discontinued and some other system be adopted. After two more years of trial I am more than convinced that reform in that direction is necessary. And I would suggest that the Legislature put the officers on Commutation wages in addition to their regular salary; that your Superintendent of prison be empowered to erect an officers mess house sufficiently near the prison to guard against accidents—that he shall control the payment of the officers board to the person in charge of the detached department, to insure such person against loss, and for other purposes. It is my opinion that such reform would be advantageous to the State and beneficial to the officers and furthermore will assist to develop discipline within the prison. Should the assembly conclude to adopt or consider the suggestion and desire, it will give me pleasure to lay the proposed plan before them in detail with full reasons therefor.

None of your prison officers are overpaid for the service rendered and the insolated condition which they must necessarily occupy; action in that direction would be beneficial. The poorest paid officer connected therewith for the amount of services required is your superintendent. The claims for an advance of salary it is to be hoped will not only be considered, but that the Legislature will see the necessity and raise the same accordingly.

By reference to table 5, herein, the increase of convicts, discharges, deaths, escapes and captures can be easily and fully understood. Tables 1 to 4 being in detail are desirable for reference by counties. The numbers preceding the name of each convict is the number set opposite his name on the great Register and shows the total of prisoners that have been registered since February 1854 to date.

There are at this time confined in the prison two invalids whose discharge from the prison would undoubtedly be beneficial to the State, but as it would be a dangerous precedent I simply submit the point for your consideration.

Property invoices will be found on file in the office of Secretary of State and Superintendent of Penitentiary. No valuation has been placed upon such return of property excepting the market value of brick, sand, wood, hay and grain on hand.

SALEM, August 31, 1870.

PHYSICIAN'S REPORT.

REPORT.

SALEM, Aug. 31, 1870.

M. P. BERRY,

SUPERINTENDENT OREGON STATE PENITENTIARY.

SIR:—I have the honor to submit my biennial Report of the Sanitary Condition of the Convicts confined in the Penitentiary for the two years immediately preceding the date hereof; and in doing so, I cannot avoid reiterating many points mentioned in my last report.

Notwithstanding the prisoners have been supplied with well-regulated and wholesome diet, and though scrupulous cleanliness has been observed within the precincts of the prison, still the same class of diseases has occurred, as those to which I called attention in my last Report, viz: syphilis, gonorrhœa, acute and chronic gleet, strictures of the urethra, dysentery, diarrhœa, fever, intermittent and remittent, pneumonia, chronic gastritis, dyspepsia, &c. Aside from these general diseases, a number of cases of hernia have occurred, and one of partial insanity. Several cases requiring the aid of surgery have presented themselves, and operations have been performed in some instances to relieve deformity and pain, and for the removal of tumors.

In order to be brief, as well as specific, I will speak of the various diseases already mentioned in groups. Those of a venereal character predominate. Syphilis in its various forms, and especially in its secondary and tertiary, or chronic stages exists, probably in the systems of one half of all the convicts admitted to the prison. This fact is no doubt owing to the previous irregular life and intemperate habits of the prisoners. In such cases diseases are obstinate, and cure uncertain, notwithstanding the most skillful treatment. Many are received whose constitutions are broken, and health so seriously impaired, as to render them unfit for labor, hence useless to the State, either permanently, or until they have been treated for months, then perhaps to relapse and become subjects for continuous medical treatment.

Some have ulceration of the throat and nose, and one or two cases have been presented where the disease was general, producing abscesses on different portions of the body. One case I will particularize: a patient required treatment who was afflicted with enlargement of one testicle, being the result of venereal disease. So enlarged had the diseased organ become, that the man was incapacitated for any kind of labor. I resorted to the knife, extirpating the diseased organ, with the satisfactory result of effecting a cure, and rendering the man useful to the State.

It will be seen from the above statement, that there are always cases among this class that require daily treatment.

Gonorrhœa is well represented in a chronic form. Many enter the prison who have previously received but partial or no treatment. In such cases the disease is usually found merging into gleet, which is sometimes very obstinate in yielding to remedies. One or two cases of stricture have been presented which were probably the result of carelessness or over treatment.

Fevers of the different types have occurred at various seasons of the year. Intermittent cases predominate during the spring and fall months, and remittent and typhoid during the summer months. Cases of pneumonia have been frequent during the winter months, and though there have been several violent attacks, no deaths have occurred.

Dysentery and diarrhœa, during the extreme hot months, have been prevalent, being caused in part from heat and excessive drinking of water, and some cases by over eating.

Other diseases, of a less violent character, yet of sufficient severity to require care and medical treatment, have prevailed at different times, and to some extent.

It gives me pleasure to state, that although several violent attacks of fever have occurred, and no hospital privileges or separate apartment for the sick has been provided, no deaths have I to report from sickness during the past two years. This fact I attribute in a great measure to the special care given to patients by the efficient Warden, who has always displayed commendable sympathy, and given careful attention to the sick.

Hernia or rupture has been presented in its severest forms. One convict was received into the prison who was so seriously ruptured as to render him unfit for any kind of service. The opening where the intestines passed into the scrotum was so large, that the application of a truss would not retain them in position. After consultation, in the presence of several medical gentlemen, and assisted by some, an operation was performed, with the hope of effecting a radical cure. The operation consisted in cutting down upon the intestine, and closing the opening by sutures, which proved successful, and the convict is now well. Two or three other operations have been performed successfully, for the removal of innocent tumors, and for the purpose of relieving deformity.

A case of feigned insanity was visited by me for several days, and examined carefully. I became thoroughly convinced that the man was endeavoring to impose upon me and the officers of the prison, and that he was perfectly sane. Upon being told of the opinion I had expressed, he became obstinate, noisy and violent, threatening my life, and the lives of the officers. When I visited him again, he endeavored to execute his threat, whereupon, being reprimanded by an officer, he accidentally came to his death.

In the absence of any law regulating physician's fees, I have been as economical as the circumstances would permit.

In concluding this report, permit me to return you my thanks for your uniform ..indness, and for the facilities you have afforded me in the performance of my duties as Prison Physician. I would also acknowledge the kindness of the Warden, Mr. Morse, for the manner in which he has invariably executed my orders in the care of the sick.

My experience in treating the prisoners for the past four years, induces me to recommend, or rather to repeat the recommendations made in my last report:

1st. The prison physician to be a salaried officer, to enable him to make daily visits to the prison.

2d. The erection of a hospital building, apart from the main prison. The reasons for this are obvious.

3d. Provisions should be made for the appointment of a competent hospital Steward, whose duty it should be to take care of the sick, and have the supervision of the hospital, under the direction of the physician. He should be competent to prescribe temporarily, in the absence of the attending physician, and required to treat the unfortunate patients placed under his charge humanely, and according to directions. He should also be required to examine the convicts each morning before commencing their day's labor. By so doing, he would be able to determine whether any were feigning sickness.

Again, permit me, in the name of humanity, to urge that provisions be at once made for a separate apartment for the sick.

Respectfully submitted,

H. CARPENTER, M. D.,

Physician O. S. Penitentiary.

REPORT OF BUILDING COMMISSIONERS.

REPORT.

To His Excellency, George L. Woods,

Governor of the State of Oregon:

The undersigned, Penitentiary Building Commissioners, have the honor to submit the following report:

The Legislature of 1868, having made no appropriations for erecting new and permanent buildings, or for repairing the present Penitentiary, no changes have been made since our last report.

The location chosen five years ago, proves to be healthy, while it also proves most favorable for the employment and support of the prisoners.

In many prisons of the eastern and middle States it is found to be difficult and costly to furnish prisoners with a sufficient variety and abundance of fresh vegetables. Health suffers in consequence of this defect.

The large vegetable garden, enclosed in our Penitentiary grounds, and worked by the prisoners, furnishes a great variety and ample supply for all the inmates and employees, at little cost to the State. The lands around are cleared, and prepared to raise hay and grain. An orchard can be set out, and made to supply all the fruit needed.

As clay for millions more of brick can be found in the area purchased, there will be work enough in summer, for most of the gang, in making brick for the State buildings, and the demands of the market.

The success attending this branch of business, appears, from the fact, that all the late supplies of brick for Salem, have come from the yards of the Penitentiary.

New buildings and walls are demanded at the earliest possible moment, as the present wooden foundations have decayed.

Brick and iron are our only available materials for strong and durable prison and walls. We are not aware of any stone-quarries suitable for these objects.

The discipline of a prison suggests its structure. Strength, constant vigilance, and control of the inmates; convenience for labor; opportunity to classify prisoners; attention to the comfort of officers, and security of State property, are, we believe, among the chief objects to be sought in a new penitentiary.

All prisons combine some of these objects, but not one has combined them all, in a compact and economical form. A perfect prison yet remains to be built.

The experience and observation of many officers and commissioners, in our own country, and Europe, have been employed in the solution of this problem. Books have been written, and volumnious annual reports have issued from State Associations; and, this year, a national convention has been called at Cincinnati, to discuss still further the questions pertaining to prisons, penitentiaries, reform schools, jails, and other penal institutions.

The results thus far reached, commend the humane spirit of Howard, Mrs. Fry, and other philanthropists. It is believed that something can be done to save a class of convicts, and restore them to good citizenship. The system now known as the "Irish graded system," has met the approval of large numbers of prison officers, and inspectors, on both sides of the Atlantic.

It is believed that many thousands of dollars can be saved to this, or any State, in the cost of a prison, if that system of discipline is adopted.

Our reports made in 1866 commend the "Rotunda" plan, and discuss at length its advantages. To these reports we beg leave again to refer.

The profitable employment of prisoners in winter, demands special attention. The present wooden building, 36x90, might serve for a temporary workshop, but owing to the risk of fire, and fire alarms, it is evident that brick workshops must be built, as in other States.

The water-power for any needed work, is ample, and available.

The method of drainage has not been thoroughly tested yet. It is believed that a vault sunk to the cobble stones of the river-bed, and bricked up, will drain all the buildings. Such shafts have proved a complete success in other places.

It is our conviction that the employment of the prisoners by the State, instead of by contract, conserves the best discipline, while it is equally profitable; and that only in this way the graded system can be carried out.

Respectfully submitted,

G. H. ATKINSON,

CHAPLAINS' REPORT.

REPORT.

SALEM, August 20th, 1870.

M. P. BERRY,

SUPERINTENDENT OREGON STATE PENITENTIARY.

SIR:—It gives us pleasure to say that in our ministerial visits to the Penitentiary during the past two years, we have met with cordial reception from the officers in charge; and have reason to believe that the preaching of the Gospel has proved of essential benefit to many of the convicts, and, we hope, to all; their good attention, at least, would indicate that.

In many respects, the State might improve the condition of the inmates of the Institution: a library ought to be provided, larger accommodations, including a suitable chapel for religious worship. Many of the convicts are young men, and need educational advantages, so far as is possible in their position.

A Chaplain of the right qualifications would be a blessing, religiously, morally and educationally, also to comfort the sick and dying.

As citizens of the State, as well as ministers of the Gospel, we not only suggest, but urge, that something be done by the next Legislature in the direction referred to.

In our visits, we have found the Institution cleanly, and to all appearance as comfortable as such buildings and surroundings can be.

Yours, with Respect,

A. F. WALLER,

J. H. PARRISH.

Whole number remaining in Hospital September 1st, 1870:

State:	Males	87

Private:	Males	0
	Females	1
Total		122

Of the patients discharged cured, twelve were inmates of the Institution less than three months, six less than six months, six less than one year, seven more than one year.

Of the discharged improved, were one less than three months, one less than six months, one less than one year, and one more than one year.

Fourteen males and three females have died since the last report, Sept. 1, 1868. Of these deaths, six resulted from pulmonary consumption; three, from organic disease of the brain; one from epilepsy and general debility; one from acute mania, three from exhaustion of chronic mania; one from paralysis, and one from rupture of blood vessel.

Of the nativity of the one hundred and twenty-two patients now remaining in the Hospital, eighty are natives of the United States; seventeen of Germany; thirteen of Ireland; two of England; one of France; one of Scotland; one of Austria; three of Canada; two of China; two half breeds.

FORM OF INSANITY.

Of those remaining in the Hospital, the form of disease is: mania, eighty-four; monomania, four; melancholia, four; dementia, eighteen; idiocy, five; epileptic mania, six.

Of the whole number now on hand, forty-three are considered curable; fifty-five incurable; eighteen are doubtful, and five idiotic.

Eight private patients have been received since the last report, seven of whom have been discharged, and one is yet under treatment.

The ratio of recoveries to the admissions is thirty-five per cent.

The deaths amount to nine per cent. of the number treated.

The highest number of State patients at any one time, was one hundred and twenty-six; the lowest number was ninety; and the average number under treatment during the whole period, was 105.73 per cent.

The number of males in the Hospital since the last report, was one hundred and thirty-five, and the number of females forty-eight.

The highest number of males at any one time was ninety-one; and the highest number of females thirty-five; the lowest number of males at any one time was sixty-five, and the lowest number of females twenty-five.

The per centage of recovries for the past six years, has averaged forty per cent., and will compare favorably with the curative results of the best asylum of the country.

RECOVERIES.

Since the last report, the per centage of recoveries has not been quite so large as in previous years; the reason for which is accounted for, by the fact that a greater number of cases of long standing have been admitted to the Asylum during the past two years. A large proportion of the cases admitted since the last report, may properly be regarded as chronic, and the physical condition of many of the more recent cases was such as to almost preclude the possibility of recovery, or even amendment. Recoveries in the various asylums of the United States, vary from sixteen to fifty per cent. This wide difference in results is owing mainly to the difference in the duration of the disease before they are brought under proper treatment, together with the physical condition of the patients.

Dr. Gundry, Superintendent of the Southern Ohio Lunatic Asylum, says: "The expectation of recovery diminishes almost in exact proportion to the length of time the disease has existed. Thus in five hundred and thirty admissions, where the duration of the disease was one month or less, there was sixty-eight and one-half per cent. of recoveries. But in cases of two years and over, the recoveries were only seventeen per cent."

Dr. Shew, Superintendent of the Connecticut General Hospital for the Insane, says: "Experience shows that treatment in early stages of the disease is attended with success in a majority of cases, while only a small portion are restored to health and reason, when several months are allowed to elapse before the patient receives systematic hospital treatment."

Indeed, the fact is so well established at this day, and so thoroughly understood by all who are in any way connected with the treatment of the insane, that it requires no argument by me to prove it here. My object in referring to it particularly at this time, is to attract the attention of those whose friends may be so unfortunate as to become insane, to the great necessity of early treatment, and in this way afford a reasonable hope of permanent recovery in a short time. Thus a useful citizen may be saved, and the State relieved of the expense of a prolonged case with little hope of ultimate recovery.

SANITARY CONDITION.

The health of the household has been fully as good during the past as the two preceding years. No general sickness has prevailed, and what did occur was of a very mild form. No severe attack of acute disease has happened in the Asylum save one of acute mania, and all the other cases might properly be called indisposition. To a great extent, this exemption from the diseases incident to all climates, and especially where there is an aggregation of human beings, is to be attributed largely to the healthfulness of the location, the perfect drainage of the premises, abundant supply of pure spring water, thorough ventilation of the building, and the exercise of the patients in the open air at all hours of the day when the weather is favorable.

Fewer deaths have occurred in proportion to the number under treatment, than were shown by the last report. But for the chronic diseases which were implanted in the system years ago, very few fatal cases would have to be reported. Consumption has claimed more than one-third as many victims as all other diseases combined, and while I have been able to paliate and sooth, my most anxious efforts have resulted in failure to accomplish more.

ESCAPES.

With a larger number in the institution, the escapes are but one more than for the two preceding years. Constant vigilance is required to prevent escapes, as there are always some patients whose chief study is to plan some means to free themselves from the necessary restraints of the institution.

AMUSEMENTS.

The various amusements provided for the patients are continued as heretofore consisting in magic lantern, stereoscopic views, swings, horizontal bar, checkers, cards and indeed everything that c n be made to subserve the purposes of pleasure with that of exercise. The beautiful grove enclosed by a high fence to prevent escape, affords a most pleasant resort during the heat of summer, and is in daily use whenever the weather is at all suitable.

Miss D. L. Dix, who has spent most of her life in the interests of this unfortunate class of people, visited the asylum twice in the summer of 1869, and expressed herself much pleased with the pleasant surroundings, as also with the general management of the institution.

You are aware that it was more from a feeling of humanity than the hope of reward, that I entered into the present contract, after the Legislature had adjourned without having made provision for the payment of the same. Many of my friends advised me not to enter into the contract, believing that under all the circumstances it would involve me in great loss.

After a full consideration of all the surroundings, I concluded to make the effort, and if I did fail, I at least would have discharged my whole duty towards those whom the State had undertaken to provide for. I am happy to say that I have succeeded in the undertaking, and that however much difficulty I may have encountered during the time, the wards of the State have had no cause ofcomplaint; on the contrary,, it has been my constant care to provide every necessity and comfort possible, to aid in the restoration to health and reason of those placed under my charge.

ASYLUM BUILDINGS.

I would respectfully suggest to your Excellency, and through you to the Legislature about to assemble, the policy of inaugurating some plan that will result in the building of a State Insane Asylum within a reasonable time. In order to accomplish this object without oppressing the people by heavy taxation, I would recommend that a small special tax upon the taxable property of the State be annually levied and collected in the same manner and by the same officers as the State and County Taxes. The sum thus accumulated, to be called the Asylum Fund, and to be securely invested until such time as the amount will be sufficient to commence the erection of Asylum buildings.

Tne cost of building an asylum capable of properly accommodating two hundred patients, with all the modern improvements, will not be less than two hundred and fifty thousand dollars; and, to make it a complete building, it will require fully two years in its erection. As the Constitution prohibits a State debt exceeding fifty thousand dollars, I see no other way of accomplishing the object without overburdening the people with taxes. I have only given the rough outlines of a plan which, if properly matured and carried out, will, in the course of a few years, give to Oregon an Institution of which the citizens of the State will feel proud, and to the poor unfortunate insane a home, where, if curable, reason will be restored, and, if incurable, their mental and bodily suffering will be mitigated, and their future life, so dull and cheerless, made more tolerable.

OBJECTS OF HOSPITALS FOR THE INSANE.

Dr. Kirkbride says: "The proper management of institutions for the insane possesses interest for every one, and all questions connected with the subject are worthy of unbiassed and intelligent investigation. Individuals, too, in official positions—members of legislative bodies, for example—are often asked to express opinions, or to decide upon proceedings, in such matters, although their pursuits have prevented their having more than a very slight, if any, previous acquaintance with them. This fact alone would seem sufficient to render unnecessary any apology on the part of those whose thoughts and observations have been especially directed to such investigations, for now and then giving the results of their experience and the conclusions to which a practical familiarity with the subject has led them. The first point about which there should be no misunderstanding anywhere, is the object for which these institutions were established and are continued. There was not a single one, until the people found they could not be dispensed with. The first and most important end to be attained by this benevolent provision, is unquestionably the treatment and restoration to health of those who are afflicted with disorders of the mind—the return to their homes and to society of that portion of its members as, without such aid, would probably be lost to both.—Owing to various causes, but especially to a neglect of treatment in the early stages of the disease, there is a large number of the insane in every community whose chances of restoration are slight, but whose comfort and happiness are promoted, and their protection from ill treatment secured, by a residence in these institutions, where they are under circumstances which give them the best chance for permanent improvement. To provide for this numerous class, is another important object attained by the establishment of such hospitals. Next to these come the protection of the community and the relief of private families. Next to a right understanding of the objects for which alone institutions for the insane are established, should be the knowledge that they are controlled by those whose aim is the relief of the afflicted and the promotion of their highest welfare. Unfortunately, the knowledge of too many in regard to institutions for the insane, and their principles of treatment, is even yet purely traditionary. They have read or heard of the reports of investigations made in other countries in the latter part of the last, or the beginning of the present, century.—They generally speak of wrong doings, but in such terms as to create only general suspicion and distrust, and in a mode that prevents any one from undertaking their contradiction."

I have made this quotation from the opinions of one so thoroughly acquainted with the subject, for the purpose of directing the attention of the people of Oregon to a proper understanding of the necessity of having a suitable place for the care and treatment of the insane, and that such cases should have medical treatment at the earliest practicable moment.

Governor H. H. Haight, of California, in his message of 1869, to the Legislature, says: "Under the system now in force, the Directors of the Asylum are chosen half at each biennial session, by a joint convention of the two houses.—These occasions are always likely to be employed by persons desirous of obtaining the positions of Resident and Assistant Physician at the Asylum, to urge the claims of Directors friendly to their aspirations, and hence there have been numerous severely contested struggles for these positions, and frequent changes in the Superintendency of the Asylum, which, if repeated in future, cannot but work injury to the patients, and reflect discredit upon the State. To make nine hundred unfortunate beings of both sexes who are deprived of their reason subjects for political struggles or personal advancement, is so repugnant to every sentiment of humanity that any system which invites such results or renders them possible is discreditable to our civilization. It is a manifest duty to abolish such a system, and to substitute one which will give that permanency to the Superintendency of the Asylum which is essential. Changes in this office are prejudicial even when there is a perfect equality in fitness, ability, and experience. The insane become familiar with the features and voice of the physician, and are not favorably affected by the substitution of a stranger. I therefore urgently recommend the repeal of the present mode of selecting Directors," &c.

"In making this recommendation, it is discharging a simple duty to the helpless and afflicted wrecks of humanity who are suffering under this terrible visitation. No humane man can fail to have his sympathies painfully wrought upon by the spectacle of nine hundred of his fellow-beings of both sexes enduring this living death, nor can he be indifferent to any measures designed to alleviate their affliction and restore them to their friends and to society."

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS.

In behalf of the inmates of the Asylum, I take great pleasure in acknowledging the receipt of one hundred volumes of books, one hundred and sixty lithographic prints, several stereoscopic pictures, with various other articles of value, free of charge, from that indefatigable philanthropist and noble woman, Miss D. L. Dix. From Messrs. Kohn & Fishel, of Portland, two magnificent cakes, one on each Christmas since my last Report. From Rev. Mr. Elliot, of Portland, a large number of magazines, Harper's Weekly, and many newspapers, for all of which my thanks are tendered to the donors.

My grateful thanks are due and hereby tendered to your Excellency for the interest which you have at all times manifested in the Asylum and the welfare of its inmates, and also for the kindness and encouragement which you have extended to me personally.

To Dr. J. S. Giltner, State Visiting Physician, I return my acknowledgements for professional aid, friendly counsel and courtesy, and for his conscientious performance of duty in behalf of the State and its wards.

To my Superintendent, Matron and Wardens, for the faithful discharge of the varied and arduous duties of their several positions, and for their uniform forbearance, kindness and consideration to those under their charge, I return my sincere thanks.

CONCLUSION.

In conclusion, permit me to express the hope that those who do now, and may in the future, control the legislation of our State, will at all times watch over and protect from harm this poor and helpless class of our citizens, and provide for them a comfortable home, where they may receive such care and medical treatment as will restore to reason all who are susceptible of such results, and for those who are not, the comforts and sympathies their condition so much demands.

SIXTH REGULAR SESSION.

SEPTEMBER, 1870.

SALEM, OREGON:
W. A. McPHERSON, STATE PRINTER.
1870.

REPORT.

INSANE ASYLUM OF OREGON,
PORTLAND, September 1st, 1870.

TO HIS EXCELLENCY, GEORGE L. WOODS,
GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF OREGON.

SIR: I hereby submit my biennial report for the last two years, ending on the 31st day of August, 1870.

I deem it unnecessary for me to enter into any summary statement regarding the patients, their nativity, &c., as there has been already one made by the resident physician, which entirely agrees with my own, to which I refer your Excellency. During the last two years, I have witnessed a large and steady increase in the number of patients, already large, altogether disproportionate to the increased population of our State in ratio.

Additional room will be required to meet this want in a proper manner the coming two years. The number at present under treatment is one hundred and twenty-two. Of this number a large proportion are chronic cases, and not susceptible of cure, and should be classified, and kept by themselves; it is not at all necessary to resort to any treatment medicinally, except hygienic, with careful attention to diet and cleanliness. The curable cases should also be kept by themselves, and should receive medical treatment adapted to their requirements and diseases.

There are several cases of feeble-minded persons confined in the Institution, for the want of a better place, who could be educated and learned a trade whereby they would be enabled to earn their own living, and who must remain a public charge for life, unless provision is made for them. Therefore, since we have no appropriate place for such cases in the State, I would suggest the propriety of our Legislature making a separate appropriation, especially set apart for such cases, and send them to a training school in some neighboring State, the same as is done by a number of other States, that send this class of patients to Media, Delaware County, Pennsylvania, where the expense of keeping them is not higher than here.

The ratio of cures will admit of a favorable comparison with any other institutions of a similar kind in any country.

The wards and domicils are always kept perfectly and well ventilated by the respective ward-masters.

Each domicil contains one, and some two, beds, well furnished with excellent bedding, for all seasons of the year, consisting of all the necessary bedding to sleep comfortable, and well supplied with clean linen. At the end of each ward is attached a bath-room, supplied with warm and cold water, where they regularly bathe themselves, which adds materially to their health and comfort.

About five acres of a fine grove of small fir trees is enclosed with a high board fence. in which a number of swings, crossbars and appliances for gymnastic exercises are erected for their benefit, where they are permitted to stay during the whole day, when the weather is favorable, and have ample opportunities for healthful recreation and enjoyment—swinging, playing at ball, draughts and cards, and pitching quoits, &c.

All the inmates are well supplied with comfortable clothing. That of the males consists of a thick woolen blouse or jacket, and pantaloons, flannel shirt and drawers, black wool hat, and heavy shoes and good woolen stockings. This comprises their winter clothing. Summer, if they prefer, they are furnished with cotton shirts and drawers.

Female garb consist of a dress over all of calico, flannel underclothing, with cotton next their persons, light comfortable shoes and stockings. All the clothing worn by the inmates, and bed clothes, are manufactured by the inmates.

All the woolen goods worn are of Oregon manufacture.

A small number of the males, when convalescent, are taken out to work on the farm. But there is a very erroneous idea prevailing among the people that most of them could be made to support themselves; whereas, it is almost impossible to prevail on any to perform manual labor, and then only in an imperfect manner. But the females are more anxious to labor, and many of them are constantly employed in sewing or knitting for the inmates. All medical treatment requisite is furnished by the resident physician. The dispensary contains an ample supply of fresh medicines, from which the medicines are dispensed.

Kitchen and bake-house I have always found clean and in good condition.

The following is a list of articles of diet furnished them: drink—coffee and tea; meats—beef, fresh and corned; pork—bacon and ham; fish—salmon, fresh and salted; mutton; fresh vegetables—potatoes, tomatoes, turnips and rutabagas, beets, cabbages, beans, peas, squashes, onions, radishes, rice, hominy, sago, farina. All kinds of fruit in season, and dried fruit in winter.

Having been under the necessity, for nearly four years, of making monthly, and often more, visits to the Asylum, for purposes of inspection and investigation, when it was unknown what day I would come, always found everything in perfect order, clean, comfortable, and the inmates perfectly satisfied with the food, and treatment by the surgeon and his superintendent and wardens; to all of which I bear cheerful testimony.

In the management of this class of patients, the old method of corporeal punishment has been abandoned, and kind but firm treatment substituted, with excellent results. The only kinds of punishments now resorted to in well conducted institutions is the straight jacket and confinement to the rooms, which always has the desired effect. This often becomes necessary, to prevent them doing injury to themselves or to others. During the period that I have been connected with them, I have never known a case in which any corporeal punishment was inflicted within my knowledge or observation.

Sanitary and hygienic regulations have been strictly followed and adhered to, to such an extent, that nowhere in our State can an equal number of persons be found who suffer less from disease, or where the ratio of mortality is so small. Their genera health could not be any better anywhere than it is here. The location and situation is a healthy one, and the water that supplies the place comes from a large and excellent spring of pure cold water on the premises, which is carried through the entire building in iron pipes, by means of a force pump with horse power.

I would recommend a change in one respect that I did two years ago. The removal of the water-closets that are at the entrance of each ward now, to the farther extremity of the ward, whereby perfect ventilation can be had during winter and rainy season, without exposing the inmates to damp and cold. If we would avoid the fœtid odor that pervades the wards at times during heavy weather, this should be attended to at once, as the rainy season is near at hand.

The resident physician, Dr. J. C. Hawthorne, is deserving of our highest praise for the efficient manner in which he has conducted the Institution during the last four years. His successful treatment of the large number of patients who have been cured by him, and his uniform kindness to the large number whose maladies will never admit of cure, but whose management has been entrusted to his care. He is entitled to the continued well wishes and gratitude of all who have been cured; and the many friends and relations whose misfortune it is to have a friend, husband, father, mother or brother or sister who needs the fostering care of this Institution, under his treatment, as they can rest assured that he will do all for them that can be done. And from my own personal knowledge and experience, a man better adapted for the place would be difficult to find anywhere.

Mr. John Kenworthy, the Superintendent and Manager of the place, is a man of humane feelings and kind disposition, and, with his extensive experience in the management of Insane Asylums, and intimate knowledge of the whims and caprices of this unfortunate class of our fellow beings, does all he can to alleviate the sorrows and miseries of confinement, and supplies as near the place of a friend or relation as it is possible for a stranger to do under such trying circumstances.

I would also bear testimony in behalf of Mr. Beatty, the principal warden, for the efficient management and government he has exhibited in the worst ward and most unruly cases that have been confined in the place, too much praise cannot be awarded him for the able manner in which he performs his duty, under the most trying difficulties. The loss of these two men would be seriously felt in the management of the Asylum.

The rest of the wardens and nurses, with a few exceptions, have also performed their respective duties in a creditable manner, and are deserving of credit from the inmates and public, to which I commend them. And now, before closing this my last report, I would extend to the Resident Physician, Superintendent, principal Warden, and all the other officers and wardens, my sincere thanks for the uniform kind treatment I received at their hands during my official visits.

All of which respectfully I submit to your consideration.

REPORT.

OFFICE OF THE BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS FOR SCHOOL LANDS AND COMMON SCHOOL FUND, Salem, Oregon, Sept. 1st, 1870.

To the Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregon:

GENTLEMEN,—The Board respectfully submit the following as their report of the transactions of this Office for two years, from Sept. 1st, 1868 to date. In consequence of the provisions of the Act of October 24, 1868, and the changes thereby made in the manner of selling School Lands, our sales were restricted to the duration of the old law, or till January 24, 1869, since when large numbers of applications to purchase School and University Lands have been received and placed on file, and due acknowledgment of the receipt and filing of the applications sent to claimants. For sales of School Lands, see Abstract "A".

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE.

MESSAGE.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
SALEM, OREGON,
A. D., SEPT., 1870.

GENTLEMEN OF THE SENATE, AND HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES:

Section 11 of Article 5 of the Constitution of the State of Oregon requires that the Governor shall, from time to time, give to the Legislative Assembly such information touching the condition of the State, and recommend such measures as he shall judge to be expedient.

By virtue of that authority, I submit, with pride and satisfaction, that peace, health and prosperity prevail in all our borders, and our young State, justly the pride of all its citizens, is rapidly increasing in population, and wealth and enterprise.

A great system of internal improvement is being inaugurated in our midst, which, fostered and encouraged, as it should be, will make Oregon, in the no distant future, one of the finest and most prosperous States in the Republic.

A system of laws, liberal, judicious and wholesome, is indispensable to a free people; hence, to legislate is a grave responsibility. Recognising this fact, and speaking in harmony with the confidence reposed in you by your constituents, as expressed at the polls, you will, I have no doubt, so conduct the affairs of the State as to meet the approval of a generous and appreciative people. In a country like ours, where the will of the people, as expressed by the ballot, is the source of the power which governs, our elections, which are to choose the makers and administrators of the law, are of vast importance to the citizens. And while our political contests stir up the passions and excite the hostility of the people, which, in other countries, would endanger liberty, and justly excite alarm, with us, they only give additional guaranties for the safety of the Republic, and our capacity for self-government.

Every good citizen can but look with pride to the happy acquiesence in the will of the majority as expressed at the polls.

The test of a man's fitness for office, is his ability, when elected thereto, to rise above all partisan and selfish views, and battle for the good of the whole people.

Let such a spirit govern you in your legislation at this session, and the blessings of the people will be bestowed upon you.

Where parties are separated by issues which involve the honor, welfare or life of the nation or State, it is right that in the conflict of reason, the truth should be made manifest; but in times like these, when no great question of a political character is before the the people, it bespeaks a poor statesmanship to be delving away, with untiring zeal, at the bones of the dead past, to the reckless disregard of the rapidly expanding interests of the State, which so much need the fostering care of the whole people.

Oregon, just now being aroused from a long slumber, incident to islation, is starting forth to a new life, and, as such, it needs legislatation of a broad and libesal character, that which shall rise above mere partisan views, and party interests, and look to the general good.

Of what consequience is it whether this or that party triumph, if, as an unvarying result, the State shall be made to prosper, and increase in wealth, and energy, and enterprise?

Such is our duty at this time, and such, I doubt not, will be your course of action.

Your line of duty is plainly indicated, and I cannot forbear expressing the hope that a spirit of liberality and good will will characterise all your legislation, and, in the end, much good be accomplished.

I do not think that much legislation is necessary at this session, and it is hoped that a careful investigation will lead to a speedy recognition of the actual wants of the State, and that, meeting these, you will be enabled to bring your labors to an early close. Long sessions of legislative bodies, as a rule, are not productive of good results, but, as experience proves, are apt to be the nurseries of strifes and contentions, which obscure the light of reason, and produce injury and disgrace. Such, doubtless, was the opinion of the framers of the Constitution of the State, since, in that instrument, the sessions, by implication, at least, if not by express language, are limited to forty days. Any person conversant with the past history of legislation in Oregon, will unite with me in the opinion that forty days are more than sufficient for the legitimate labors of any session heretofore held. And I think that the interests of the State require that the precedent be now established that, unless extraordinary occason requires it, no session go beyond the limit intimated by the Constitution.

The daily expenses of the Legislative Assembly are great, and the people whom you serve, together with the voice of history, will applaud that spirit of retrenchment which will expedite business, shorten the session, and thereby lessen the burdens of taxation. I trust, therefore, that you will avail yourselves of this opportunity to render the State an invaluable service, by expeditious, practical labor, and a speedy adjournment.

COMMON SCHOOLS.

The growth and power of a nation are known by the growth and power of its mentality. And as in republics the soverignty is vested alike in each citizen, so, to made the power commensurate with the wants of the government, the dissemination of intelligence should be universal. There is nothing which the interests of this State so much require as a thorough system of common schools. A finished education should be placed within the reach of every child within its borders. There is not a good man or woman in the State who does not feel the obligation of this high duty.

The school is the link in our civil system which connects the State with the family. The provisions of any school act should, therefore, be eminently just, and so plain and explicit as to be readily understood by every one. And, recognizing the fact that educated mind is the very life of free governments, I cannot urge you too strongly to give such care and attention to this subject as will insure to us, without further delay, the passage of a good and wise Common School Law, which will guarantee the incalculable blessings and benefits which alone can arise from such.

In the primal organization of the State, the Governor was made Superintendent of Public Instruction. But the past history of education in Oregon clearly demonstrates that such an arrangement is ineffective and unsatisfactory. To organize and superintend a system commensurate with the wants of the State, is a task, sufficient of itself, to require all the time, attention and thought which the very best executive ability can give. Section 1 of article 8 of the Constitution of the State provides for the election of a Superintendent of public Instruction, and in view of the present disorganized and unsatisfactory condition of our Common Schools, I urge upon you the election of such Superintendent, clothed with such power and burdened with such duties as will insure to us a thorough system of common schools. To insure success, you should give to such officer good compensation, require him to live at the capital of the State, and to give his entire attention to the duties of his office.

In this connection, permit me to call your special attention to section 2 of article 8 of the Constitution of the State, which provides, among other things, that all the proceeds of the five hundred thousand acres of land to which this State was entitled by the act of Congress entitled "An act to appropriate the proceeds of the sale of the public lands, and to grant pre-emption rights," approved the 4th of September, 1841, and also the five per centum of the net proceeds of the public lands, to which this State became entitled upon her admission into the Union, shall be set apart as a separate and irreducible school fund, and that the interest of the same, together with all other revenues from the school land mentioned in said section, shall be exclusively applied to the support and maintainance of common schools. Any effort to divert this fund from the uses and purposes contemplated by the Constitution, ought, therefore, to meet with, as I trust it will receive, your unqualified disapproval. You are, for the time being, the custodians of the interests of the people in this behalf, and, in view of the vast importance of the educational interests of the State, permit me to express the hope that you will carefully guard the Common School Fund from improper and unconstitutional uses, and thus confer a benefaction upon the people of the State.

It is gratifying to know that everywhere, in all parts of the State, a deep and active interest is manifested in educatianal matters. The time for active, energetic, and effective work is at hand. Much is to be done. You alone can energize and give life to this much needed work, and I trust that it will receive your careful and undivided attention.

COMMON SCHOOL FUND.

For such information as may be necessary to gnide you in your deliberations in matters pertaining thereto, I beg leave to refer you to the Report of the Board of Commissioners for the Management of the School Fund, a copy of which is herewith transmitted.

RAILROADS.

Next in importance to education is a system of cheap and convienient transportation. Railroads are the very life of a State. And it is with gratification and pride that I communicate to you that a railroad is now in process of construction within the borders of the State, and soon will be completed to its southern bonndary, connecting us with California and the East. The importance of this enterprise cannot be over estimated. The history of civilization for the last half century is but a repetition of the triumphs of railroads. No State can prosper without them; and I earnestly hope that you will give such encouragement to these great adjuncts of civilization as will facilitate their construction, and throw around them that protection of law which will insure their successful operation in our midst.

These enterprises, it is safe to conclude, are but the beginning of a great system of railroads, which will soon penetrate every nook and corner of our State. And now, in the beginning, is the proper time for such a system of railroad laws to be passed, as will give stability and protection to such enterprises, and, on the other hand, secure the people from encroachment.

Railroads have long been the great desire, as they have been the great need, of all sections of the State. We could not build them with home capital; we had not enough. The introduction of foreign capital, therefore, became a necessity. A sensible and prudent people, who rightly comprehend the laws of growth and prosperity, will ever encourage and facilitate the introduction into their midst, of capital and productive labor. And whatever may be the prejudices of the hour, I earnestly hope that you will rise above them, and so legislate as to benefit the whole people.

Railroad laws are needed; and, gathering light from the experience of other and older States, where railroads have been extensively operated, I have no doubt you will be able to organize such a system as will answer the purposes and demands of the present, and give sufficient guaranties for the future.

SUPREME COURT.

A well-regulated judiciary, more than all things else, gives confidence to the public in the efficiency of organized government. And, in view of that fact, I earnestly recommend that the necessary steps be taken for the organization of a separate Supreme Court, as soon as the conditions stipulated in sec. 10 of art. 7 of the Constitution of the State are complied with.

The time was, in the incipient organization of the State, when a meager population, struggling in the midst of the privations of a frontier life, and having but little necessity for Courts, that the judiciary as now organized was all-sufficient, and fully adequate to the public wants. But our already large and rapidly increasing population, and consequent increase of legal business, demands, in language which ought to be heard, the speedy organization of a separate Supreme Court, as contemplated by the Constitution. And I hope that, recognizing its necessity, you will give the subject your earnest attention.

In this connection, permit me to suggest an amendment to our Criminal Code. I know full well that prudence and all experience requires that well-established usages, either in civil or crimnal law, be not hastily overthrown; but when, in the onward march of civilization, personal rights—always the subject of the greatest solicitude—are expanded, the chains which bind them should be snapped asunder, and rules and regulations established which shall be in harmony with the more enlarged ideas of justice and right. Throughout the civilized world, the party defendant to a crimnal action is presumed to be innocent until his guilt is established; but judging from the rights accorded to parties defendant upon trial, under the law as it now is, it would seem that the rule was reversed, and that the presumption of guilt attached until innocence was proven. I suggest, therefore, in what is conceived to be simple justice to the accused, that in all criminal actions, the defendant should have the right to make the closing argument, and that such right be secured by law.

And I also suggest that in all criminal actions, the parties defendant should have the right to testify before the juries by which they are being tried, as to the matters at issue between the State and themselves, as other witnesses, leaving it to the jury to determine the credibility of such testimony.

Closing the mouth of the defendant, when on trial, the issue of which involves character, liberty or life, is a relic of barbarism, which illy comports with the spirit of the age; and I earnestly hope that you will do yourselves and the State the credit to make an advancing step in this direction, and throw around the citizen a shield which shall protect him from the intrigues of falsehood and wrong. As the law now stands, any citizen, however upright and honest he may be, with his mouth closed by the force of law, is at the mercy of the corrupt designing, and liable to fill a felon's cell. No one who is conversant with the history of crimnal proceedings, doubts the fact that, ottentimes, men are convicted of crimes which they never committed, and made to suffer the extreme penalty of the law, when they are innocent. Such occurrences shock the sensibilities of all good citizens, and stir up every noble impulse of the human heart, to try to prevent their reccurrence. To allow to defendant to testify in his own behalf, under the same restrictions as other citizens, as the law now is in civil actions, would, in my judgment, go far towards mitigating these evils, and make the rights of the citizen more secure. Nor do I know of any good reason why the wife, in crimnal actions, should not be permitted to testify for or against the husband, without his consent, the same as in civil procedure. The object of courts, of juries, and of witnesses, is to elicit all the facts, and establish justice. And anything which falls short of and refuses to discover all the avenues of truth, hinders, rather than promotes, the ends for which courts were created. The idea that the wife is not competent to testify in matters which involve the liberty and life of the husband, when, in matters which involve dollars and cents that right is undisputed, is an ungenerous libel upon the honor and integrity of inteligent womanhood, and ought not to be tolerated among an enlightened and truth-seeking people. I trust, therefore, that you will remove these, and all the barriers which in the least obstruct the ends of justice, and thereby vindicate Oregon as a friend to liberty, tempered with order, which is the end of all good government.

ELECTIONS.

The purity of the ballot box, and the untrammelled expression of the will of the citizen at our polls, is the strongest safeguard of personal liberty.

All will agree with me, that the experience of the present year, burdened, as it is, with abuses, under our present system of conducting elections, cries aloud for some such change as will protect the lawful voters from the rapacious incursions of an imported, corrupt and irresponsible rabble, whose highest conceptions of human liberty and free government are measured by their greed for money. I therefore recommend that an effective and stringent Registry Law be passed.

Experience has shown that in other States in the Republic, such laws have been highly beneficial; and, I doubt not, if enacted in this State, would give satisfaction, and, to a great extent, remedy the evils of which the people so justly complain. I have long been of the opinion that the viva voce system of voting was a mistake, and ought to be abolished, and the ballot substituted in its stead. Under the Constitution, you have the right to make this change, and I earnestly hope that you may so amend the law.

FINANCE.

The Legislative Assembly of 1868 failed to pass the General Appropriation Bill, in consequence of which, the business of the State has been done upon credit, while the moneys of the State have been accumulating in the vaults of the Treasury; hence the large exhibit made by the Treasurer of State in his biennial report.

In this connection, permit me to suggest that, in my judgment the General Appropriation Bill ought always to be passed as soon in the session as the expenses can be approximated; so that, in any event, partisan strife cannot interfere with its financial operations, or in any way impair its credit.

Because of the large amount of outstanding indebtedness, in consequence of there being no appropriation, the bill, which ought to have been passed by the Legislative Assembly of 1868, should receive your early attention, and thus relieve the State from its burden, and increase its circulating medium.

INSANE ASYLUM.

On the 1st day of October 1868, under the direction of the Legislative Assembly, I contracted with Dr. J. C. Hawthorne of Multnomah county, for the keeping, care, and medical treatment of the Insane and Idiotic of the State, for two years, which contract expires on the 1st day of October of the present year. In my biennial message to the Legislative Assembly of 1868, I urged upon that body the necessity for the erection and construction of suitable buildings for an Asylum for the Insane at the State Capital, as required by the constitution. In accordance with that recommendation, a bill was passed appropriation forty thousand dollars, which bill received my signature, thereby, to all intents and purposes, becoming a law; but afterwards, in my answer to a resolution, from the House in which it originated, it was returned, and strangled in committee Therefore nothing has been done in the premises. And I now renew my recommendation in that behalf; and indulge the hope that this much needed work will be no longer delayed. Humanity and good taste rebel at the idea of hawking these unfortunates about from place to place, subject to the lowest bidder, as they have been for years past. And that, too, when our fundamental law has made ample provisions for their permanent keeping, care and treatment, at the State Capital. Suitable buildings ought to be begun at once, and made ready for their reception at an early day. In the meantime, however, provissions will have to be made for the keeping of these wards untill such time as the State buildings can be completed. I should do Dr. Hawthorne a serious injustice, were I not to say that he has faithfully carried out his contract with the State, and complied with all its requirements in letter and in spirit. Too much cannot be said in his praise.

The medical treatment of the patients, I have reason to believe, has been as efficient and thorough as in any other Asylum in the United States; while their food and raiment, and all those surroundings which secure bodily comfort, have been all that any one could desire. It would be difficult to place them in better hands.

They are submitted to your care and guardianee, with a full confidence that the interests of the State will be vigilantly guarded, and that all that can be done, will be done, to palliate their sufferings, and restore them to reason, and to their friends again.

For further information in reference to the condition and management of the Insane Asylum, you are respectfully referred to the report of the contactor, Dr. J. C. Hawthorne, herewith transmitted.

PENITENTIARY.

The Penitentiary has been so conducted for the last year, I trust, as to meet with your unqualified approval.

The police regulations have been so efficient and complete, as to render the escape of convicts almost impossible. But three have escaped, and now remain at large, since the last session of the Legislative Assembly; which number, considering the character of the buildings in which they are kept, and manner in which prison-labor has to be performed, in forest, and field, where a watchful vigilance alone prevents escape, is remarkably small. Too much credit cannot be given to the Superintendent, Wardens, and officers of the Prison for the faithful manner in which they have discharged the duties of their respective offices. They have done their whole duty. And I should do violence to my own sense of right, were I not to extend to them, through you, my highest commendation.

I hesitate not to say that the State Prison building now in use is unsafe and worthless,—wholly inadequate to the public want,—a disgrace which ought no longer to be tolerated. In my message to the Legislature of 1868, I urged that suitable buildings be erected, and that appropriation be made therefor. But I regret to say that no steps were taken, whatever, to begin this much needed work. Longer delay will be a public calamity. The continued safe-keeping of the convicts in a building no more secure than a commn dwelling, and that in a rapid process of decay, cannot be guarantied. A new building adequate to our public want, ought to be begun immediately, and pushed to a speedy completion.

Convict labor, now thoroughly systemised, can be used in construction thereof, with a great saving to the State. Bricks of the very best quality, are now being manufactured by prison labor, in vast quantities, but the clay adapted to the making of good bricks, found upon the Penitentiary grounds, is limited in quantity, and I doubt whether there is much more at command than will be needed in the construction of the public buildings. The State, by manufacturing its own bricks, and utilizing convict labor, in preparing materials for, and erecting the walls, can largely decrease the expense incident to such a work. And I earnestly recommend that the necessary legislation be had at this session, and that the work be begun without further delay.

For a more extensive review of the condition and management of the Prison, you are respectfully referred to the report of M. P. Berry, Esq., Superintendent of the Penitentiary, a copy of which is herwith transmitted.

STATE CAPITOL BUILDING.

I should fail to do my duty were I not to urge upon you the necessity for the immediate beginning and erection of a suitable State House. Twelve years of our existence as a State have come and gone, and no effort has yet been put forth to provide such a building. It is needed badly, and I respectfully recommend that the necessary apropriations be made, and that the work be begun at once.

MILITARY AFFAIRS.

For information relating to Military Affairs, I beg leave to refer you to the Report of Adjutant General Cyrus A. Reed, a copy of which is herewith submitted.

LIGHT HOUSES, FORTS, &c.

In my Message to the Legislative Assembly of 1868, I called attention to the necessity for the enacting of a general law, ceeding certain rights to the Government of the United States for the purchase of sites for the erection of Light Houses, Forts, Arsenals and Dockyards, within the limits of the State; but the legislation of that session was not sufficient to meet the wants of the General Government.

Public works of vast importance to the State have been held in abeyance, because of the absence of the necessary statutory enactments. More Light Houses are needed on our Coast, for the erection of which appropriations have been made by Congress, and orders issued for the beginning of the work, but nothing can be done until certain rights are ceeded by the State, through its Legislature. In this connection, I call your attention to a communication from R. S. Williamson, Maj. U. S. Engineers, &c., herewith transmitted. In view of the importance of the public works referred to, I urge you to give the matter your earnest attention.

CONCLUSION.

In taking my leave of you, officially, permit me to express the hope that a spirit of harmony and good will may preside over all your deliberations; that prudence and sound judgment may characterize your legislation; and that, in the end, much good may be done for the State. Do your duty, and the gratitude of an appreciative people will be your reward.

PORTHAND, OREGON,
September 7, 1870.

To His Excellency,

The Governor of the State of Oregon.

Sir:—I have the honor to inform you that I am directed by the Hon. Secretary of the Treasury, through the Light House Board, and the Hon. Secretary of War, through the Chief of Engineers of the United States Army, to request that the two enclosed drafts of Acts, the one entitled "An Act to provide for the relinquishment to the United States, in certain cases to title in lands for sites of Light Houses, and other purposes, on the Coasts and Waters of the State;" and the other, "An Act giving the consent of the Legislature of the State of Oregon to the purchase by the United States of land within this State, for Light House, Military or Naval purposes," may be submitted, through you, and with your favorable recomendation, to the Senate and Assembly of this State, with the hope that they may become laws of the State.

The drafts of the Acts submitted to you are intended to show your Excelleney what is the nature of the Acts which it is desirable should become laws of the State; but any other phraseology may be adopted, provided the objects desired are arrived at. They are similar to laws which have been in force in California for many years, and are so drafted as to refer only to Light House, Military and Naval purposes.

The necessity for the passage of the first-mentioned Act is apparent. Without its passage, an individual owning a piece of land can positively refuse to sell it, no matter how much the public service may require that it should become the property of ihe United States; or, if not positively refusing, the owner may place such an exhorbitant price upon it, that the United States would decline to purchase, rather than set so mischievous a precedent as to pay an exhorbitant price for land of comparatively little value.

The necessity of the passage of the other Act above mentioned is also apparent. The Government of the United States may secure a title, by purchase or otherwise, to a peice of land intended to be used as a site for a Light House or the Constitution of the United States gives exclusive legislation "over all places purchased, by the consent of the Legislature of the State in which the same shall be, for the erection of Forts, Magazines, Arsenals, Dockyards and other needful buildings." It is therefore necessary that the consent of the State must be obtained before a Light House or Fort can be built on land purchased by the United States. To ask for and obtain the passage of a special Act whenever a Ligh House is to be built, particularly when the Legislture meets but once in two years, would be difficult, and often detrimental to the public service.

There is but one Light House on the coast of Oregon; and it will not be long before several will be required.

The whole difficulty would be obviated by the passage of an Act, a draft of which is respectfully submitted to your Excellency.

If, in their wisdom, the Legislature of Oregon should deem it advisable not to make such general laws as I have indicated, then I am directed to request that special laws be passed by the Legislature of Oregon, ceding jurisdiction over forty three and three-tenths (43:3-10) acres of land purchased by the United States at Cape Blanco for Light House purposes, 20 acres of land at Cape Foulweather, which has been reserved by the President of the United States for Light House purposes, and such lands as the United States may purchase at Yaquina Bay, where $20,000 have been appropriated for two range lights.

I have the honor to be,
Very Respectfully,
Your Obedient Servant,
R. S. WILLIAMSON,
Maj. U. S. Engineers

INAUGURAL ADDRESS

OF

GOV. L. F. GROVER,

DELIVERED TO

THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY, SEPT. 14, 1870.

SIXTH REGULAR SESSION.

SALEM, OREGON:
T. PATTERSON, STATE PRINTER.
1870.

INAUGURAL ADDRESS.

Gentlemen of the Senate and House of Representatives:

In assuming the duties of Chief Executive, it is becoming in me to acknowledge the ample favors which an all-wise Providence has lavished upon us as a people.

Abundant harvests have been gathered, health prevails, and peace reigns throughout our borders.

We are now entering upon an important period of our development as a State. Our infancy as a Territorial Government has passed into history. Our early struggle as a young State of the Union has already turned the point of successful trial, and we now stand in the threshold of coming strength and power.

With a territory ranking among the largest of the sisterhood, with a soil equal to the best, and a climate of a salubrity and healthfulness enjoyed by none other, with resources for the employment of industry of great variety and extent, it would seem difficult to predict for Oregon anything short of a most successful career. In fact, with a creditable management of public affairs, nothing stands in the way of our prosperity.

At this juncture of our advancement, a vital question presents itself for determination. Our State is sparsely peopled. It is capable of supporting a dense population. We are about to reach out and take by the hand thousands who will come and make their homes among us.

Shall we look eastward to the older States and to Europe, or shall we look westward to Asia? Shall the Caucasian or shall the Mongolian be invited to be co-laborers with us in building up the State? Labor has been, and will continue to be, the capital of the immigrant. To European immigration America has heretofore offered higher wages and more abundant means of support than the home country. Labor, therefore, both skilled and unskilled, has flown to us from Europe, constantly swelling our ranks, and enriching the country with its industry and genius. To this source our nation has owed the wonderful impetus of our progress in wealth and numbers.

In receiving this population, we have not ceased to be a homogeneous people; for they have been of the stock whence were derived the first American Colonies. They been bone of our bone and flesh of our flesh. Their labor has become represented in lands and houses, herds and flocks, orchards and vineyards, mills and merchandise —all with us and of us.

Their property has borne its equal burden of taxation, and they have shared our perils and hardships in war, and our responsibilities in peace. They speak our language, and, respecting and cherishing the principles of our Government, they mingle with us congenially in all our institutions; their children are educated with ours, and both are reared together to be one people.

We can, therefore, hail the coming of this class of immigration in common with that from our older States, and welcome them among us with favor and satisfaction as brothers.

But what of the Mongolian?

An acquaintance of twenty years with the Chinese upon the Pacific Coast enables us to define his traits and qualifications with sufficient certainty.

He is unacquainted with our language, or with any language having elements common with ours. He is unaccustomed to our modes of thought, either in a social, moral or religious point of view. He is incapable of assimilating himself to our habits of life, and even his education is a discipline the reverse of our forms of reason and action, both public and private.

He is uninfluenced by our examples and observances; our Courts, even, can administer no oath which will bind his conscience. He is a Pagan in his religion, and an absolutist in his ideas of government.

He comes with no family, but his associations are with harlots of his own race. While living here he is subject to laws inscrutable to us, and when dead his body is returned to the land from whence he came. He respects neither our Government nor our soil. There is not a single tie of common brotherhood between us and him; although we admit a common humanity, he denies even this.

These features of his character are ingrained in his being, and are established as unchangeable by a history of four thousand years.

His coming among us is not from love or even respect for our institutions—it is solely for gain. But his gains are not that thrift which attaches itself to the country, becoming visible and taxable property, bearing its proportion of the burdens of government; but they are the results of delving in mines or serving for wages, all of which are hoarded and sent away to China. The ruined village and the deserted plain are places where he has wrought the most.

The money which he has earned is represented nowhere in the fixed property of the country. China has been made richer, and America has been made poorer by his presence.

Can we build up our State based upon the immigration of the Asiatic? The common answer is, that we can not. For American and European labor will never consent to contest the field with Chinese labor; and as soon as it is understood that the Mongolian is to be encouraged here, the European will cease to come. Which will we have—the wealth, the intellect, the virtues, the accumulations and the association of our kinsmen, or the vices of the Pagan, and the absorbing and leeching process of his work among us? I need not answer. Recent demonstrations of the people fully respond to these inquiries.

THE BURLINGAME TREATY.

A careful observation of the course of the Chinese Government will fully indicate the fact that it is the settled policy of that people to draw upon the resources of all other nations in every available form; and their peculiar control over their own subjects facilitates the accomplishment of their purposes in this respect to a remarkable extent. The last hundred years have witnessed all Europe and America shipping to them their treasure and taking in exchange the peculiar products of China.

Whenever the Chinese have been permitted to go abroad, they seem still to have been under the control of the home government, to the extent at least, that their earnings have been returned to their native land.

To facilitate this policy of the Chinese Government, they have lately procured the ratification of a treaty at Washington, by which, as the compact declares, "citizens of the United States visiting or residing in China, shall enjoy the same privileges, immunities, or exceptions in respect to travel or residence as may be enjoyed by the citizens or subjects of the most favored nation; and, reciprocally, Chinese subjects visiting or residing in the United States shall enjoy the same privileges, immunities and exemptions in respect to travel or residence as may be enjoyed by the citizens or subjects of the most favored nation."

The pretended reciprocity of this treaty is an absurdity. The most favored nation stands on the narrowest limits in China, but in the United States, upon the broadest. By this treaty our people receive no enlargement of rights in China, but the Chinese are admitted freely to our unexhausted wealth,—they are even admitted to our mines without tax or tribute to our government—a privilege which no other government ever granted to an alien.

China aggregates a population greater than that of all Europe and the United States combined. She hangs like a portentious cloud over our political horizon. Her people may swarm upon us like locusts. Their coming will unhinge labor; derange industry; demoralize the country; and by claiming and receiving the ballot may upturn our system of government altogether; for the most serious apprehension from the present policy of the General Government to enfranchise all inferior and servile races, and to encourage their immigration to the United States, is that the ballot system may become despicable.

This view alarms those who revere our institutions, and who believe that intelligence, virtue and honor constitute the only safe basis of a free government.

It is said that if we restrain the immigration or importation of Chinese, we abandon the hereditary policy of the government.

This objection is not well taken. Our government in this respect, was framed upon the idea that the States held the right to admit or exclude such persons as they should deem proper, and Congress was prohibited from even excluding any class of persons previous to the year 1808. (Art. 1, Sec. 9, U. S. Constitution). Since that date Congress has exercised this right by prohibiting the importation of Africans; and the naval power of the government has been used to enforce the prohibition.

Our government has removed Indians from States to Territories, and from one Territory to another, and confined them to limited boundaries. The States have exercised the right to exclude paupers and other classes of persons constantly, from the beginning of our history.

The States now hold the right to admit or exclude such foreign persons as they choose to admit or exclude, subject only to the treaty making power.

By the 31st section of the Bill of Rights in our Constitution, the Legislature has authority to restrain and regulate the immigration to this State of persons not qualified to become citizens of the United States. Were it not for the existence of this treaty, the State could exercise the power to protect itself against the incursions of such of the Chinese as it should deem detrimental to its well-being.

I regard it, therefore, to be of the gravest consequence that the late treaty with China, and the policy on which it is based, receive our earnest and vigorous protest.

Upon the subject of immigration, I herewith submit a communication received from a committee of the Board of Trustees of the Labor Exchange Association of Portland, and recommend the same to your favorable consideration, as emanating from a source worthy of high respect.

THE FIFTEENTH AMENDMENT.

Since your last meeting, by the promulgation of the so-called 15th Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, Oregon has been deprived de facto of the first element of its Constitution, guaranteed by her admission into the Union—the right to regulate suffrage.

In the Farewell Address of Washington, we have the following remarkable and prophetic admonition: "Toward the preservation of your government and the permanency of your present happy state, it is requisite not only that you speedily discountenance irregular opposition to its acknowledged authority, but also that you resist with care the spirit of invasion upon its principles, however specious the pretexts. One method of assault may be to effect, in the forms of the Constitution, alterations which impair the energy of the system, and thus to undermine what cannot be directly overthrown."

The spirit of invasion upon the principles of the Constitution of the United States, of which we have been forewarned, has already been abroad, and it has adopted the very method of assault specifically pointed out.

It has struck at the vital forces of our system and sought to implant therein the essential elements of tyranny. It has attacked the principle of local self-government in the States, which is the chief corner stone of our whole political fabric.

While discountenancing irregular opposition to even assumed authority on the part of the General Government in this respect, I shall not forbear placing on record my settled conviction that the two propositions last promulgated as amendments to the Constitution of the United States, effecting as they do such violence to the inherent and reserved rights of the several States, have never been legally sanctioned; and while we yield to superior force exercised in the forms of law, let our Constitution stand sustained by the will of her people as a living monument of the former dignity of the States of the Union, and as a land-mark of American liberty.

CONVENTION TO AMEND THE CONSTITUTION OF U. S.

In order to cure the numerous complications and inconsistencies into which the late distracted condition of the country has thrown our fundamental laws, both State and National, at the proper time I would recommend that Oregon join with her sister States in proposing a call for a convention of all the States to frame amendments to the Constitution of the United States, to which, when fairly ratified by the legislatures or conventions of three-fourths of the States, elected upon the issues submitted, all the States would cheerfully acquiesce and conform their local Constitutions thereto.

This course will probably become necessary in order that the co-ordinate branches of the General Government be better intrenched in their rights, and that the rights of the States be re-defined and acknowledged.

PUBLIC BUILDINGS.

The State is in want of public buildings, while every succeeding year shows that the necessity for their erection is growing more and more imperative. Prudence, indeed, would dictate that we proceed slowly with these works, but nevertheless we should be making some progress in this direction. I would therefore suggest that provision be made during the present session for the gradual erection of some one of the public buildings most needed.

STATE UNIVERSITY AND AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

By the 10th Section of the Act of Congress of 27th September, 1850, making donations of public lands in Oregon, the quantity of two Townships of land were donated to aid in the establishment of a University in Oregon. Also, by the 11th Section of the same Act there were granted for the same purpose parts of what was known as the "Oregon City Claim." By the 4th section of the Act of Congress of Feb. 14th, 1859, admitting the State of Oregon into the Union, it was provided "that seventy-two sections of land shall be set apart and reserved for the use and support of a State University, to be selected by the Governor of said State, to be appropriated and applied in such manner as the Legislature of said State may prescribe for the purpose aforesaid, but for no other purpose."

These lands have been located and many of them sold, and the funds arising from the sales have been invested to use of the University Fund, but in what amounts I have not now the means of stating.

These funds, however, have, by the terms of the Constitution, been inhibited from expenditure until the period of ten years from the adoption of the Constitution "unless the same should be otherwise disposed of by the consent of Congress, for common school purposes." The period of ten years limitation from the adoption of the Constitution has elapsed, and Congress has not only not consented to these funds being otherwise disposed of, but has specially enjoined by Act subsequent to the framing of our Constitution, that as to the seventy-two sections of land, they should be applied for the use and support of a University, "but for no other purpose." These funds, therefore, are subject to being marshalled now, and of being devoted to the establishment of a State University.

Allied to these provisions of Congress for a State University, is the Act of the second of July, 1862, making a grant of 90,000 acres of public lands for the establishment of an Agricultural College.

This grant has been accepted by the State, and provision for the location of the lands have been duly made, and the lands have been selected, and of excellent quality and location.

For the purpose of establishing the Agricultural College within the time required by the Act making the grant, the Legislature at its last session designated Corvallis College as the Agricultural College of the State, but this designation was limited to the term of two years. It would appear that to meet the purposes of the grant steps for a permanent location of this institution should be taken.

The report of the chief officers of Corvallis College, touching the connection of that institution with the Agricultural College, submitted to me, is herewith accompanying. The report shows that the College has performed the duty assigned it by every available means, and I commend the suggestions therein to your favorable notice.

Competency of support is as necessary to success in institutions of learning as in other undertakings. If the University funds and the fund arising from the Agricultural College grant, could be united and properly administered, they would constitute a solid foundation for a State institution of high order—one that would assist greatly to hold up the standard of education in the State.

PENITENTIARY.

Our Penitentiary has always been a serious charge upon the State. This has resulted from the want of the appliances and the discipline necessary to engage the convicts in a well adapted system of continuous industry.

Constant systematic employment is probably one of the most humane, and at the same time one of the most valued, means of reform used in public prisons. There is ample water power within the prison grounds now belonging to the State, available for all ordinary mechanical uses; also, a liberal amount of land adapted to prison use; so that it will be only a matter of organization and discipline, with a moderate outlay of money in the initiation of the work, to enable this institution to become not only self-sustaining, but possibly to render a revenue to the State. If the Assembly should consider that further legislation is necessary to enable the Superintendent to place the Penitentiary on a self-sustaining basis, I respectfully ask your attention theteto.

FINANCES.

At the last biennial session of the Legislature no appropriations were made for the support of the State Government during the following two years. The result has been that two annual collections of revenue have accumulated in the Treasury, and the public debts and liabilities have been out-standing and drawing interest against the State.

I urge early action of your body upon this important subject, in order that justice be done the public creditor and that the further accumulation of interest be stopped.

It is apprehended that on account of the absence of means to defray the State expenses certain warrants, though issued for necessary contingencies, have been without legal authority, and will demand legislation beyond mere appropriation to secure their payment by the Treasurer. It would be just in these cases that warrants issued for fixed salaries and allowances be legalized and paid in full. But where a greater amount has been allowed to any claimant than would have been demanded, had the State not been in distress for want of appropriations, I think the law authorizing payment should provide for an equitable adjustment.

INTERNAL IMPROVEMENTS.

The 4th section of the Act of Congress of February 14th, 1859, provides "that five per centum of the net proceeds of sales of all public lands lying within said State, which shall be sold by Congress after the admission of said State into the Union, after deducting all expenses incident to the same, shall be paid to said State for the purpose of making public roads and internal improvements, as the Legislature shall direct."

The amount of this fund should now be considerable, and there are several works of great importance and commanding necessity which the State should push forward or encourage by every constitutional means.

The State is also entitled to the proceeds of the sales of five hundred thousand acres of land, under the Act of September 4, 1841, on her admission into the Union. This grant was specifically made for the purposes of internal improvements; but by Art. 8th, Section 2d, of our Constitution, this fund is enumerated as a part of the provision for common schools, if Congress shall consent to such appropriation.

The consent of Congress has never been given to this diversion. I recommend that specific application be made to Congress for its consent to the use of this fund for common schools, according to the provision of our Constitution. In case this consent is withheld, the fund may then be treated as available for internal improvements.

Specific grants of lands in liberal amounts have been made by Congress for railroads and wagon roads within the State, and I am happy to note the fact that, stimulated by this assistance, good wagon roads have been made, opening up communication to every part of the interior. And railroads have been projected to connect Oregon and California, and with the East by way of the North Pacific line, while shorter lines are to connect us with other leading points of communication.

Fifty miles of the Oregon and California railroad, connecting Salem, the Capital, with Portland, the metropolis, have already been completed, and we now feel the impulse of more rapid communication. These public works should be fostered, and as far as the State has power or influence, should be made to inure to the benefit of all parts of the State equally.

TAX ON INSURANCE COMPANIES.

Foreign insurance companies are carrying on an extensive business within our State. They receive the protection of our laws and derive profits from their business here, without being subject to any proportionate contribution to support our Government.

It is customary in other States to tax such corporations upon some proper basis; for instance, a percentage upon their gross receipts within the State—and I am informed that such assessments are regarded by the parties interested as but just, and are cheerfully paid.

The revenue inuring to the State from this source, under a well devised law for that purpose providing the usual rates of taxation, would approximate the sum of ten thousand dollars annually.

As these insurance companies do business throughout the State, I would recommend that the present law requiring them to deposit securities with the County Treasurers in the county where they hold their principal office, be so amended as to require the same to be deposited with the State Treasurer, as more appropriate and better suited to public convenience.

PAY OF OFFICERS.

The important duties and the growing responsibilities which are cast upon the Executive office indicate that the office of Private Secretary will be one of labor and constant attention to business. As no other clerical force is allowed, it appears to me that such pay should be provided for this officer as would at least secure the services of a competent book-keeper in an ordinary mercantile house. The sum of six hundred dollars per annum, now allowed by law, is entirely inadequate. The same remark is applicable to the salary of the Assistant Secretary of State, which is four hundred dollars per annum. These two offices require competent, capable and responsible men, exclusively devoted to their several duties; such cannot be secured without fair compensation.

SUPREME COURT.

In the organization of our Judiciary the framers of the Constitution provided that a single class of Judges should hold both the Supreme Court and the Circuit Courts, but that when the population of the State should amount to two hundred thousand, the Legislative Assembly might provide for the election of Supreme and Circuit Judges in distinct classes.

It was evidently anticipated that at first the labor of the Courts would not be excessive, while the condition of the State dictated economy in all departments.

While I do not think we have reached the amount of population required by the Constitution to entitle us to a separate Supreme Court, an act, properly framed, providing for such Court and the election of Judges at our next biennial election, would meet with the Executive sanction, as I believe by that time the limit of population will have been substantially reached, that the welfare of the State requires separate Courts, and that, by the present organization, the labor devolved upon the Judges is excessive.

INSANE ASYLUM.

The Asylum for the Insane is the foster child of the State. In the provision for the unfortunate, the best humanities of a people are exhibited. I need not ask you to extend a kind hand to this institution.

The deaf and dumb and the blind must ere long be provided for also.

Our State needs much well considered legislative labor at your hands, of which, as your body is composed of men of large experience, you will be the better judges. I will, however, further suggest that there should be a thorough revision of our Common School system, so that it shall be organized upon the idea of efficiency in every department.

The management and disposal of the State lands constitutes an important public trust, and good faith to the occupants and purchasers requires that there should be provided such official service, in respect to tenure and disposal, as will place titles beyond chance of falling into confusion.

In conclusion, gentlemen, allow me to congratulate you upon the promptness and harmony which have signalized your organization. It will be taken as an earnest of your devotion to duty, and as a promise to the country of an industrious and successful session.

And now, in the presence of all the Departments of our proud young State, assembled here by your invitation, permit me the expression:—In our laws, let us have wisdom; in their adjudication by the Courts, justice; and in their administration and final execution, faithfulness and firmness. In this sentiment I promise you the performance of my part.

L. F. GROVER.

APPENDIX.

COMMUNICATION

LABOR EXCHANGE OF PORTLAND, OREGON.

PORTLAND, August 23, 1870.

Hon. L. F. Grover, Governor of Oregon—Sir: The undersigned, a Committee of the Board of Trustees of the Labor Exchange Association of Portland, beg leave to offer for your consideration, and that of the Legislature of this State at its approaching session, some suggestions on the subject of immigration; and, also, to invite your attention to the propriety of the State rendering pecuniary aid, by some measure not involving extravagant expenditure, to the association we represent.

We do not deem it necessary to enter into any lengthy argument to illustrate the benefits to accrue to the State from large immigrations—a few facts will be sufficient. Oregon ranks with the largest of the States in point of territorial area, and among the smallest in population. Its natural resources in everything that contributes to build up large and prosperous communities, are equal to the finest portions of the United States. The climate has no equal for salubrity and healthfulness. The soil is remarkably fertile; and there are many millions of acres of land in our mountains and valleys, on the coast and in the interior, open to purchase and settlement at moderate prices. For the ordinary branches of agriculture, no climate or country can possess more favorable conditions. Possessed of mines of iron and coal, of great extent and value, together with the most extensive forests of timber, with mill streams and water power in abundance, it is capable of being developed into a manufacturing State of no small importance.

That great benefits are to be derived by the people of such a State, from the immigration in large numbers of an industrial people from other States, and from European countries, is a proposition which, we take for granted, will not be disputed.

We need population—not of traders, professional men, or mere laborers, for a large influx of these classes, without a corresponding accession of producers, would be a positive detriment—but we want a farming population, especially of that class that requires land in small tracts for permanent homes, and devotes itself to the cultivation of a variety of products; for our country and climate are adapted to their pursuits. A very large proportion of the immigration landed at Castle Garden during the past few years is of that class. They are not the dregs of European society, as many people have been misled to believe, but families whose industrious habits have enabled them to accumulate sufficient means to emigrate to America and settle themselves on the cheap lands of the West.

A report published by the Department of State at Washington, March 31, 1870, puts the total number of immigrants which arrived in the United States during the year 1869 at 345,653; of these, 266,569 arrived at the port of New York. The report of the Department of Agriculture for 1868, in a chapter on immigration, says that over one-fourth of the entire immigration received from foreign countries during the period of our natural existence, has been received in the past nine years—that is, from 1860 to 1868, inclusive. This influx of population amounted during those nine years to 2,141,403 souls.

Some statistics have been published, which go to show the final destination of all these people. The Superintendent at Castle Garden, in his published report, says that in one week in June, 1870, there arrived at that place 11,822 immigrants; 8,000 of these started immediately for the West. During the year ending May 31, 1870, over 316,000 immigrants arrived at Castle Garden, of whom about one-twentieth were Scandinavians. Of these latter, two-thirds have gone West. They brought with them nearly $500,000 in money. Of 50,000 emigrants who arrived in the month of May, New York got 14,000; Illinois, 6,000; Pennsylvania, 6,000; New Jersey, 1,500; New England States, 3,000; Southern States, 1,700; the remainder, amounting to nearly 18,000, went West. The value of immigrants has been variously estimated. The Louisville Commercial Convention set the mark at $1,500. Probably a safer estimate is to be had from Mr. Frederick Kapp, one of the Commissioners of Immigration in New York city. He reckons an immigrant worth just as much to this country as it costs to produce a native born laborer of the same average ability. This cost, he estimates, is $1,500 in the case of a male, and half as much for a female. Averaging the ages and sexes of the immigrants, he estimates each worth $1,125. He estimates further, that immigrants bring with them an average of $150 each in money and personal property, making the total accession of value from such immigrants, $1,275.

An examination of the foregoing figures will furnish a clue to the remarkable prosperity enjoyed by some of the Western States the past few years. The fact is, those States have been built up within a few years from mere outlying territories into great States, by immigration alone. This is particularly so in the case of Minnesota and Kansas. The population of Minnesota in 1860 was 172,022; in 1865, about 250,000; and at the close of the year 1868, it was stated in the annual message of the Governor to be 445,000.

Kansas has increased its population from 107,110 in 1860 to somewhere in the neighborhood of 550,000 in 1870. Both States have thoroughly efficient immigrant organizations, supported by the State. The Board of Immigation of the State of Missouri estimate the additional revenue to the State, derived from immigration by the taxation of the property of immigrants and the increased value of other property consequent upon the settlement of that immigration in the State, to more than double the appropriations made annually in aid of their immigration scheme. So that Missouri is not only increasing her wealth and population permanently by this means, but makes the operation pay as it goes. These States have gone into the immigration business with energy and enterprise. Their associations have their agents in New York and the principal seaport towns in Europe. Their circulars, maps and emigrant guides are distributed in the language and to the people of all nationalities. Their agents put themselves in communication with, and become the representative agents in Europe and the Atlantic States for ocean steamship and railway lines, and by educating the emigrant to start from his home for their States as his objective point, create business for those lines and offer an inducement by which cheaper transportation is secured. At his place of destination the emigrant is received by a local agent, who is supplied with maps and price lists of lands in his neighborhood, and authorized to make sales; he acts, also, as the agent for manufacturers of portable houses and other supplies, which he furnishes to the immigrants at original cost. Thus, the emigrant secures cheap transportation, attention while en route, cheap lands and cheap supplies to start with. These people readily adapt themselves to their new surroundings, become contented and prosperous in their new homes, and write back to the old country for their friends to follow them. These organizations draw their emigrating land-buyers from the educated and Christian communities of Central and Northern Europe—a class which brings with it habits of industry and economy.

The President of the Kansas organization, J. S. Loomis, Esq., in a letter on the subject of European Immigration says: "There are twenty millions of people in European countries who are thinking of emigrating to America as a possible fact, and there are half that number who will come here as soon as circumstances become favorable."

The importance of an energetic effort being made to get a share of this flow of population, and also of the emigrating classes of the Atlantic States, is felt by all who are interested in the material development of Oregon. It is a question of plain matter of fact business which Oregon can not afford to neglect.

No State can afford to remain inert and passive in this matter while neighboring States are exerting themselves to reap the benefits to arise from this Eastern immigration.

The difficulty now will be for Oregon to make her claims heard among other contestants. Those who have been isolated here for ten or fifteen years do not realize how little is known of this State in the East, and still less in Europe. But even if we were as well known as our sister State, California, still we should stand at such a disadvantage in some other respects as to need special efforts to enable us to meet with any degree of success.

The Labor Exchange Association has directed its efforts mainly to overcome that want of information existing abroad, by the distribution of pamphlets and other printed matter. In this enterprise of advertising the State, the Association has met with good success, considering the means at command. The plan of organization is similar to that of a private corporation. It is managed by a Board of ten Trustees, who elect from their number a President, Vice President, Treasurer, and an Executive Committee. A Secretary is appointed by the Board, who has the power, also, to employ such other persons to carry out the objects of the Association as they may deem advisable, and to fix the compensation of the same. The by-laws define the duties of the different officers, and provide for the annual and other meetings of the Association and of the Board of Trustees. The revenues are derived from private subscription. Any person who pays into the treasury ten dollars or more in any one year becomes a member for that year, and is entitled to cast one vote at the annual and other meetings for every ten dollars so paid in. No charges are made at the office for any business transacted there.

The plan of operations contemplated by the by-laws is to collect statistics of the agricultural and other resources of the State, and as occasion may require, publish and distribute them through the Eastern States and Europe; or in other words, to advertise the State—not by the publication of exaggerated statements, but of simple facts—and thereby let the people of other countries know what Oregon has to offer them. Information is obtained of vacant Government lands, and of private lands for sale or rent, of the opportunities for business or employment in different sections of the State, whereby immigrants on their arrival are enabled to save themselves time and money, as it becomes a general intelligence office for their benefit. Orders are received for help of all kinds and from all parts of the State, and the immigrant and others assisted in procuring employment.

The Association was an experiment, to begin with. Its success in bringing Oregon into notice, and in advertising the just claims held by our State upon the attention of the emigrating classes, has been great enough to justify us in making an earnest effort for its continuance.

The Association was organized in the latter part of August, 1869, and the office opened for business about the 1st of October following.

Up to the 1st of August, 1870, a period of about ten months, about ten thousand copies of various publications relating to the resources of Oregon have been distributed in the Atlantic States, including a few sent to Europe. The pamphlets prepared in the office, and published under the direction of the Board of Trustees, comprise the bulk of those publications. They contain every kind of information that would be interesting to people who contemplate emigration. The last edition, published in April last, is very full and complete in statistical and other information. It is generally conceded to be the best adapted to the purpose for which it is intended, of any publication we have had in Oregon. By placing it in the hands of the leading newspapers throughout the country east of the Rocky Mountains, and in the hands of prominent men, commercial organizations, agricultural and horticultural societies, it has been the means of scattering information far and wide, and of attracting toward Oregon the attention necessary to be aroused before we can expect any very considerable amount of immigration.

Up to August 1st, there were received at the office from the States east of the Rocky Mountains, over six hundred applications, by letter, for information concerning Oregon. Nearly all of them were received since the 1st of March—the first few months of the Society's existence having been consumed in making itself known abroad.

Hundreds of the Society's publications have been obtained at the office by private parties from all parts of the State, and sent to their friends in the older States.

It may not be amiss to cite one or two cases to illustrate the workings of such a method of advertising. A German resident of Portland having obtained a copy of the first pamphlet issued, last December, sent it to some friends in Stephenson county, Illinois. It fell into the hands of a rich German farmer of that county, Mr. Paul Ohling, who made up his mind from the description therein given, that he would go and take a look at Oregon. He arrived at Portland in June last, looked through the Willamette Valley, and finally bought a farm in Linn county, for which he paid $13,000. He has gone back to Illinois after his family, and proposes to bring with him a small colony of his German neighbors who wait for his return for further information. Another instance is that of a Mr. Chalmers, a Scottish farmer, who came to California last Spring for the purpose of buying land and making his home there. While in San Francisco, he accidentally got hold of one of our pamphlets and was induced to make a visit to Oregon, the result of which was, that he bought a farm in Washington county, for which he paid $12,000. He has returned to Scotland after his family, and to inform his friends and neighbors of all the advantages existing in Oregon.

During ten months ending the first of August, 398 persons obtained employment through the office. Of these, all but ninety-two were recent arrivals in Oregon at the time of their engagements. It is usually the case that, on the arrival of the steamer from San Francisco, numbers of new comers apply at the office for information of various kinds, either for lands to settle upon, where and how to find them, for employment or information relative to advantages and opportunities in different sections for business or labor. The office is provided with the means of furnishing all such with the information they need, except that our finances have not been in condition to enable us to procure proper maps of the public surveys.

The expenditures of the Association for ten months have been as follows:

For Books, Printing, Postage, Stationery, and the circulation of printed matter	$1,066 03
For Office rent, and Fuel	277 50
For Furniture and Fixtures	79 00
For Salary of Secretary	1,395 00
Total	$2,817 53

Funds to meet these expenses were obtained almost entirely from the business men of Portland—only two subscribers having been obtained out of the city. The present financial basis of the Association is a monthly subscription list, embracing 117 subscribers, in sums ranging from one dollar up to five dollars, payable monthly, and amounting in the aggregate to $264 00 per month. This arrangement is to cease the 1st of January, 1871, by the terms of the subscription; and unless aid can be obtained from the State, the office will have to be closed then, as the burden of sustaining it thus far has been quite heavy, particularly so on some individuals. And again, voluntary subscription is a resource too precarious to carry on an enterprise of the kind. On one occasion it became necessary for the Trustees to pledge their private credit to get their pamphlets published.

Now, if aid can be obtained from the State, it is proposed to continue the plan of operations already commenced. First—by publishing from time to time, in pamphlet form, descriptions of Oregon, its soil, climate, and agricultural and other resources, together with such other information as would be valuable to emigrants, and contribute to bring Oregon into prominent notice, and the distribution of these amongst the classes of people for whom they are intended. Second—to employ an agent in New York City, to represent the claims of Oregon amongst the immigrants that land there, to furnish them information and arrange for their transportation. Third—to keep open an office in Portland, with a competent person to attend to the business of the Association, collect statistics, prepare its publications, etc., etc., and to keep the office furnished with suitable maps of public lands, whereby immigrants who may be strangers to our land system, can learn how and where lands are to be obtained for settlement; and where information of all kinds interesting to strangers in a new country can be obtained free of cost. Fourth—to procure employment for immigrants and others as far as practicable.

We think the State should bear the expense of this, as the State at large is to be benefited by it. It is not just that a few persons should be taxed, even with their own consent, for that which benefits all alike.

We do not propose to suggest large expenditures of money to carry out our plans. Our expenses for ten months have been a fraction over $2,800, but the Trustees have not had the means to make their work near as successful as it might be made; and they have not been able to provide for an agent in New York. The quantity of printed matter issued from the office has been very small, considering the extent of country and number of people we desire to reach. We have not been able to publish them in any language but the English. In short, the operations of the society have been cramped in many ways by want of means.

Finally, we submit the question for your earnest consideration, believing that it will receive the attention that its importance demands.

Very respectfully,

H. C. LEONARD,
C. H. LEWIS,
DONALD MACLEAY,
Committee.

COMMUNICATION

FROM THE

STATE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE OF CORVALLIS.

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE,
August 31st, 1870.

To His Excellency, L. F. GROVER,
Governor of Oregon:

In behalf of the Board of Trustees of Corvallis College, designated by the Legislative Assembly of Oregon at its last session as the State College of Agriculture, I submit to you the following Annual Report for the year ending June 30, 1870.

The establishment of the Agricultural College of Oregon is due to the bounty of the General Government. On the second day of July, 1862, Congress passed an Act granting public lands to the several States and Territories which might provide Colleges for the benefit of Agriculture and the Mechanic Arts. Under this Act the share of the State of Oregon was 90,000 acres. The institution was obliged, by the terms of the original Act, to be in operation at a period not later than the year 1867. But a subsequent Act, approved on the 23d day of July, 1866, extended the time within which the Industrial Colleges might be established, by another period of five years. The Legislature availed itself of this privilege to the extent of one year, when the Agricultural College of Oregon was established by formal enactment, Oct. 27, 1869.

The Act of the Legislative Assembly of Oregon, designating Corvallis College as the Agricultural College of the State, is entitled "An Act to secure the location of the lands donated by Congress to the State for an Agricultural College, and to establish such College."

The Trustees of the College met on the 31st day of October, A. D. 1868, and adopted a resolution accepting the terms and conditions prescribed in said Act of the Legislative Assembly.

In accordance with the above mentioned Act of the Legislature, the College was entitled to receive twenty-two students, to be appointed by the State Senators, one student from each Senatorial District. Of this number seventeen presented certificates of appointment, and were assigned their respective places in the College classes during the first year. The Act to which allusion has been made, together with the vote of acceptance on the part of the Trustees of Corvallis College, also the names of Agricultural College students and course of study, may be found in the Catalogue for 1868 and '69 accompanying this report.

At the beginning of the year 1869–70 five new students were appointed to fill the vacancies, when the number was twenty-two as provided by the Legislature.

These students were faithfully instructed in all the arts, sciences and other studies, in accordance with the requirements of the Act of Congress, so far as it was possible.

It will be remembered that not one dollar was appropriated by the Legislature to inaugurate the Agricultural College. This, we think, is an anomaly in the history of Colleges. And as the Act of the Legislature designating Corvallis College as the Agricultural College of Oregon did not make it permanent, but liable to removal by any future Legislature, even without the consent of the Trustees—for the reasons above mentioned the Board did not deem it proper to make that large expenditure of means necessary, in order to fully carry out the requirements of the Act of Congress. Nevertheless, at the commencement of the last Collegiate year the Trustees did purchase a splendid Philosophical and Chemical Apparatus, costing in the aggregate $1,200 for the use of the College.

This has greatly facilitated the labors of the Professors in the Agricultural Department.

The students have not been instructed in Military Tactics, as this would have involved the employment of a Professor of Military Science, and the purchase of uniform and arms. Neither have they been instructed in practical Agriculture, as this would have necessitated the purchase (or rent) and the furnishing an Agricultural Farm. Instruction has been given in all the other studies pertaining to the Agricultural Department.

The effort to establish an Agricultural College for Oregon is in its incipiency, and it must be evident, to make it a success, it ought to be permanently located, and that, too, at the earliest practicable moment, as any delay in this respect must result in injury to the institution.

Nor is this all. It must be apparent that in order to inaugurate this institution successfully, and in accordance with the requirements of the Act of Congress, some further aid of a material kind should be granted by the State. An appropriation of a few thousand dollars would enable the Trustees to place the Agricultural College upon a basis of permanent success; and it is believed that no appropriation could be made which would confer more lasting benefits upon the State at large. The utilization of science, the practical application of its truths to Agricultural and Mechanical pursuits, is the grand and beneficent object contemplated by Congress in making the grant in question.

To whatever institution of learning the important trust is confided, the fostering care of the Legislative Assembly will doubtless be extended to a degree commensurate with the interests involved.

Respectfully submitted,

A. E. SEARS, Pres.

B. R. BIDDLE, Sec.

By order of the Board,

W. A. FINLEY,
Chairman of Committee.

The Treasurer of the College furnishes the following statement of amounts received as tuition from the State Treasurer:

For the year ending July 8, 1869	$415 12½
For the year ending June 30, 1870	960 00
Total	$1375 12½

Respectfully submitted,

A. CAUTHORN,
